

MEXICO WANTS TO REESTABLISH OLD TRADE RELATIONS WITH U. S.

WILL Villa out of the way and sporadic bandits apparently suppressed, Mexico proposes to resume its old business and social relations with the United States. This was announced Wednesday by Emilio L. Argüelles, secretary of the Juarez chamber of commerce. Mr. Argüelles came to the El Paso chamber of commerce and arranged for a conference to be held at 10 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the El Paso chamber. The conference is to be attended by officers and directors of the El Paso and Juarez chambers of commerce, by Roberto V. Pasquella, fiscal agent for Mexico, Luis Montes de Oca, Mexican consul general, if he is in the city, and by American and Mexican federal officials who care to attend.

Among the things that will be discussed at the conference are the passport regulations, the control of the reloading of Mexican box cars on the American side, the construction of a free international bridge, the diversion of trade with foreign countries to the United States and of trade with eastern American cities to El Paso and southwest border cities. Plans for a convention in Juarez and El Paso next fall of representatives of all Mexican chambers of commerce, also will be discussed.

Would Have Free Passports.

The Mexican government, Mr. Argüelles said Wednesday, is willing to remove border passport and trade restrictions if the American government will do the same. This would include the removal of all charges for border permits and allow free passage of nationals of both republics and foreign subjects only to the usual immigration inspection provided for in the laws of both countries. It would also include the granting of permission to Mexico to send its national railway box cars to the American side of the Rio Grande to be loaded from American box cars with goods destined to Mexican interior cities. At present all carload goods must be shipped into Mexico in bond and there is a retentive bond charge to the Mexican of $1000 a car.

Free Mexican Plan for the free bridge is to build additions to the present National railway bridge across the Rio Grande so that vehicles and pedestrians both can cross without toll charges.

500 Delegates Coming.

In regard to the convention, Mr. Argüelles said there would be about 500 delegates in attendance. The convention is to be held in the fall of 1921 and nearly every chamber of commerce in the Latin republic has announced that it would send delegates.

24 Skeletons May Be Crew of Treasure Ship

Corpus Christi, Tex., Aug. 11.—Twenty-five human skeletons have been found 14 miles south of here on the west bank of the Laguna Madre by Thomas Steele and O. S. Atwood, contractors. They evidently had been covered by earth many years and it is thought that the September storm uncovered them.

NEFF DEMANDS BAILEY DEBATE

Houston, Texas, Aug. 11.—Pat M. Neff last night challenged Joseph Bailey to a joint debate, time and place to be agreed on later. Neff sent a telegram to Bailey personally conveying this challenge and asked him to give his decision soon.

Neff said that if Bailey accepts this challenge, "he will certainly have to get down to his knighting and tell you what he actually proposes to do as governor."

Neff was given a good reception in Houston last night, and an enthusiastic reception at the auditorium. He again discussed with emphasis "Bailey and the war," and declared that the issue of this campaign is Democracy vs. Baileyism and insisted that Mr. Bailey is making the race on false issues.

Asks Questions of Bailey.

"The Democratic nomination for governor of Texas must now come to one of us. Legal members of the party whose commission we seek are entitled to know just how we stand on national and state issues. I have, therefore, asked you, through the press, if you endorse the national Democratic platform. You have declined so far to answer, though you seek a Democratic nomination. The Democrats of Texas have the right to have this question answered. I have therefore asked you what specific legislation you, as governor, would recommend that would change in any way the present status of either the open or the union shop. You have declined to name even one thing that you could or would even try to do to change Texas the contractual relation between the employer and the employee."

"Based On False Issues."

"You have never named or discussed one constructive proposition that you would undertake in the event of your election as governor. Your campaign is based absolutely on false issues and your entire discussion is about things you know that you as governor could not change. A joint debate will give a better understanding of the issues than can be had by long range discussions."

"Therefore I challenge you to a joint debate. Time and place to be agreed on. If several such joint debates be held it is my opinion that the people will know whether you stand on or repudiate the Democratic platform. The people will know what you are going to do, if anything, to maintain the open shop or destroy the union shop. The people will know what you are going to do as governor in regard to what you call an eight-hour law."

WORN OUT HORSES, WOUNDED MEN, DELAY VILLA'S JOURNEY

An officer, who was with Villa when he entered Salinas at the time of his surrender to the de facto government several days ago, and who arrived in Juarez Tuesday, stated to Alberto Ruelas, San Antonio, correspondent of the new government, that Villa's failure to arrive when expected was due to the fact that his horses were worn out and he made the trip from Salinas overland by easy stages in order to rest his exhausted men. He also stated that Villa, according to this officer, rested his horses for several days at San Pedro, 45 miles from Torreon.

MEXICO PUTS QUARANTINE ON CATTLE FROM SOUTHERN TEXAS

San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 11.—The Mexican government has established a quarantine against the entry into Mexico of livestock that has been exposed to anthrax which is prevalent in a number of counties between San Antonio and the Rio Grande, according to a statement received here tonight from Del Rio. The quarantine was established upon recommendation of Gen. Luis G. Obregon, governor of the state of Chihuahua. It is understood among cattlemen here.

HARDING TALK LARRAZOLO IS CALLED JOKE

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

need for the coming year. This estimate is placed before congress, which always takes particular pleasure in cutting down the estimates. It does not matter what the political complexion of congress is. Democratic control of congress has always been accompanied by a considerable reduction of the estimates. A Republican control of congress during a Republican administration has always meant the same sort of pruning of estimates.

All Lies With Germans.

It is merely a subtraction on paper of imaginary sums of money. And nobody hereafter has ever claimed that this reduction process was a real economy. If it were recognized as an economy the Democrats could argue that in the six years they had control of congress they, too, could cut down the estimates of executive departments. If the amounts were added, the Democrats could claim they saved the country billions of dollars. But that would be ridiculous, and the old part of it is that some Republican leaders themselves who are talking about paper saving know very well the whole business is camouflage.

Now, anybody who was in Washington in the months following the war knows the real reason the Republican congress did not reduce taxes or even cry it and representative Mendell, the Republican leader in the house, knew it when he resisted again and again the reduction of special interests to open the tax laws for their own benefit. The truth about the taxation question is that the more convincing, in the opinion of those who know the facts, than the present would have been an appropriation to pay the commissioner of insurance, if the governor had not insisted upon it. He appointed a man who does very little work in the office, for which he receives $250 a month of the people's money. If the governor is sincere in his declaration for economy, why doesn't he prove his good faith and fire the commissioner and make the deputy do the work. This would reduce the expense of the office by at least $150 a month.

For Many Offices.

"There is also the office of legal adviser to the governor. This legal adviser is a good lawyer, who is willing and ready to earn his salary of $2500, but the governor never consults him on legal problems. The governor himself is a lawyer, and says he does not need a legal adviser. If he did need one, there is the attorney available, with his staff of two assistants. All three are personal and political friends of the governor. And still the governor must make a soft berth for a friend. This governor says he never consults the legal adviser. The way, if he wants, is to practice economy for the benefit of New Mexicans, who already are burdened with taxes, then why can't he begin now and cut off some of the useless office holders of his own appointing, instead of waiting until he is again nominated and elected."

"And his statement about support of a primary law is about on a par with these others. He talks glibly enough, but his words do not square up with his deeds. And his deeds are a whole lot more eloquent and convincing than his words."

TEXAS REPUBLICANS SPLIT ON COLOR LINE

The party in Texas for many years. Others on the ticket with Capers are:

E. E. Starnes, of Fort Worth, lieutenant governor; George W. Burkett, Houston, attorney general; Andrew McCombs, Fort Worth, controller; L. L. Boyd, Kemp, had commissioner; Prof. J. Washington, Seguin, school superintendent; C. P. Zimber, Dallas, state chairman; Rev. William Johnson, Dallas, vice chairman.

The platform of the regulars endorsed the "open shop" but favored collective bargaining. It also endorsed the Beck-Connors transportation bill, arbitration of labor disputes by force, as in the Allen law in Kansas, and laws to put Texas railroads on an equal basis with eastern ports.

It opposed the Democratic stand on the tariff, war of nations, the nationalization of city, state and national government employees and government ownership of railroads.

May Join With Progressives.

Negotiations are in progress for fusion between the regular Republican organization and the American party, which put out a ticket yesterday in Fort Worth. The plan is for each party to name half the electors, according to a statement of leaders here.

In this manner, the leaders pointed out, they hope to secure half the Texas electoral vote for Harding and Coolidge, the Republican presidential and vice presidential nominees.

I. C. C. GRANTS RIGHT TO FILE BLANKET SCHEDULES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 11.—Special permission to file blanket schedules to make effective the new passenger, Pullman, excess baggage and milk rates was granted today by the Interstate Commerce commission. Similar permission as to blanket schedules covering the increased freight rates already had been granted and the roads are preparing to put all of the new rates into effect on August 15.

The roads are required to issue the printed schedules, local tariffs by March 1, 1921; interdivision tariffs by June 1, 1921; and interline or joint tariffs by October 1, 1921.

The San Lorenzo festival which has been in progress during the last three days will end Thursday with the important exercises of the celebration. Thursday is San Lorenzo day. A large crowd, including American tourists, has attended the fiesta each day to observe the quaint dances and sports of the Mexicans. A dance of the Pueblo Indians will be a feature of the final day.

WORK OF MOVING MILITARY OFFICES STARTS THURSDAY

The work of moving offices of the El Paso military district, which is to be abolished August 15, will begin Thursday and probably will require three days, according to Capt. J. W. Koester, acting adjutant of the district.

Headquarters at Fort Bliss will be opened Friday morning, the personnel to occupy space now serving for the headquarters of the Eighth cavalry.

E. P. & S. W. PLANS BETTER SERVICE TO BE RETAINED

Revision of the schedule of the Golden State Union to reduce by three and one-half hours the time between Chicago and Los Angeles via El Paso is being contemplated by officials of the route, according to Garnett King, general passenger agent of the El Paso & Southwestern railroad.

Such plans, if adopted, would reduce the time between El Paso and Los Angeles and El Paso and Chicago by about one hour, 39 minutes in each case, he says, and would make the running time between the two terminals approximately 4½ hours instead of 5½ hours as at present.

To affect the time saving, Mr. King says, it probably would be necessary to cut out tourist cars and day coaches, and make the train an exclusively Pullman limited. All stops at small stations would be eliminated, necessitating the placing in service out of El Paso an additional day passenger train.

AUGUST R. TICKET SALES EXPECTED TO BREAK RECORD

Ticket sales for August probably will exceed the total of any month during the last two years, is the prediction of R. N. Davis, manager of the consolidated ticket offices.

Ordinarily, he said, August is one of the heaviest of vacation months, which, under usual conditions, would cause a heavy sale. The fact that ticket advances are due during the latter part of August, together with the fact that tickets at the old rate can be purchased until August 25, is causing practically all those who intended to take vacations during August or September to hasten their plans.

REGULATIONS ENCHANGED.

There will be no change in the current minimum number of passage tickets required for the exclusive occupancy of drawing room compartments, Pullman sections, according to advices received Wednesday by Garnett King, general passenger agent of the El Paso & Southwestern railroad. Present rules require that anyone having exclusive occupancy of a drawing room or compartment must have two railroad tickets and any one occupying a section must have one and one-half tickets.
